Seventh-Day Adventism.

My vacation is now overpast. Many labors now multiply upon me. A pretty large pastorate is under my care. The presidency and principalship of a high school is again in my hands. A double office in a Sunday School devolves upon me; besides the oversight of a farm, and other duties.
All these things will cause my contributions to the valuable REGISTER to be irregular. But since I have already shown, and proved every word of it by the Holy Scripture, that the Jewish Sabbath law is not binding on us Christians; and that all the ten commandments but the one about a day are recommended and repeated in the New Testament; and that that one is rescinded and forewarned against the New Testament; and that no one can keep or does keep any one of the commandments, but that Christ alone has kept them all for us, and that His keeping of them becomes our keeping of them by faith in Him, it is no longer necessary that I hasten to finish my series of articles. Neither do I think that any one was liable to be greatly misled by Rev. Heacock's animadversions, as they were not supported by writ; but that the true side might also be shown, I wrote. And right here I want to thank my numerous readers for their many kind marks of gratitude and thanks they have given me for my labors, and assure them that it gives me pleasure to know that they have been benefited by the word of God as I have presented it to them.
May they all continue to stand fast in this great liberty, and never be drawn into false and erroneous ways of legalism and self-righteousness, found in pretended law-keeping.

Rev. Heacock's last article, like his others, have nothing in it, I will not refer to it at all.

Sometimes Adventists want to know why Christ and the apostles preached in the Jewish synagogues on the Sabbath day, if they did not intend for us to keep "the Sabbath." As to Christ I will say that being sent as the One to keep the law He was bound to keep it to the last jot and tittle, else we could never have been redeemed by His work and merit. And as to His preaching and the apostles' preaching, they certainly had no desire to preach to empty benches. Hence they resorted to the synagogues, where the people had met.
That was the day the Jews met and that was the day to find a crowd to preach to.
Probably Rev. Heacock himself goes to preach at a time when the people have come together, for no doubt even he would have little desire to enter a church and preach where no one else is present.

Therefore, the disciples did just what any man of good sense would do. They went and preached when and where the people had assembled.

The people still being Jews, it was not to be expected that they would all at once abandon this old day for public worship even while yet they had not heard of the Christian religion. After they had turned away from their Judaism, they that met on the "first day of the week," Acts 20:7, I Cor. 16:2, and did not, like Rev. Heacock, still adhere to the old Jewish Sabbath.

In the 24th chapter of Mark, Christ foretells His people the persecutions and calamities that shall befall Jerusalem and the temple. In such times His people must flee for safety, and He commands them to pray that their flight be not on the Sabbath day or in the winter time.

From this Scripture Adventists sometimes argue that Christ meant for His people to "keep" the Sabbath, else why would He have said "Pray that your flight be not on the Sabbath day?" Remember this was a strict Pharisaical Jewish country, and that a man in traveling, especially with his family, a wife and little children, must needs have aid and comfort in the form of food, clothing and shelter.
None of these things could they beg, buy or borrow of those strict Jews for love or money. Hence, the reason is plain why Christ commanded them to pray as He did.

Besides, if this would refer to the Sabbath with the idea that they should keep that day and not break it by traveling on it, then the word "winter time" will come in for as much recognition as "Sabbath day," for they are connected in the same co-ordination. But will Adventists claims that they must "keep" "winter time" too, as well as the Sabbath? But if "winter time" is not binding here, then "Sabbath day" is not either, and Adventists are left in another dilemma. This is another case that calls for the ingenuity of Adventists' clipping, cleaving and carving.

The winter time is also, like the Sabbath day was then, a very unfavorable season for traveling. Thus the reason for Christ's command is clear.

Among other things, I will try to find time hereafter to show why we observe Sunday, and how it should be observed; and that Adventists should not be persecuted by state laws for not keeping Sunday, etc. It is wrong, unscriptural, and unconstitutional to endeavor to propagate religious views by force of civil law.

Gravelton, Mo. L. M. WAGNER.

Southeast Missouri.

The people in Southeast Missouri ought to be more careful about disposing of large tracts of land to big corporations. Not long ago Butler county fell heir, through a decision in the supreme court, to a large tract of timber land, and the county court could hardly wait until the decree of the supreme court was received until it commenced negotiating a sale of the land to a foreign corporation. It was sold for a song, and a very cheap one at that.
Had the county held this land and sold small tracts to actual settlers it would have received more than double what the foreign corporation paid and acquired many valuable citizens into the bargain.

The policy of selling so much land to big corporations has injured Southeast Missouri more than the citizens in that section of the state imagine, and this injury will become more apparent in the future. A very large per cent. of the valuable timber land in Southeast Missouri is now owned by corporations, and the mineral-bearing land is practically all in their control. It is not to be doubted that the finest mineral-bearing land in the state is to be found in Southeast Missouri, and yet the public never hears a word about this important subject, because it does not suit the corporations to have it known just what a bonanza they have.

But how different is the case in Jasper county. In all civilized countries the wonderful products of the Jasper county mines are known. The difference between Southeast Missouri and Jasper county is that the citizens in Jasper, and not foreign corporations, own the mineral land. Jasper is one of the most thickly-settled and wealthy counties in the state. Carthage, Webb City, Joplin and Sarsco, all beautiful cities, owe their prosperity largely to the mines. Every week the mines yield $100,000 or more, and the money is widely distributed. And it is not to be doubted that the boom in Jasper county is only in its infancy.
The corporations did not build up Jasper county but the people themselves.

Had they sold or leased their land to one or two great corporations Webb City and Joplin would be mere villages to-day in place of the magnificent cities they really are.

It is a matter to be regretted that the people of Southeast Missouri have stood in their own light and given the corporations so much control. The land in Southeast Missouri is the richest in the state and the people are hospitable, intelligent and enterprising.
But in an evil hour they gave the corporations enough rope to strangle the life out of individual enterprise, and it will probably take years to overcome this influence. With the immense forests of Southeast Missouri destroyed and the mineral-bearing land in the hands of great corporations, the country is bound to suffer. These corporations care nothing for the real development of the Southeast. What they are after is the valuable minerals and valuable timber, and not the upbuilding of the country. Had the lead mines in St. Francois county been operated the past ten years as similar mines were operated in Jasper county, Farmington would to-day be a city of 15-000 or 20,000 inhabitants and half a dozen other flourishing cities would dot the county, and the same is true of other cities in Southeast Missouri.— J. C. Tribune.

On With the Dance.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, true to the treacherous policy that has marked its course since it embraced John Sherman's financial views, now comes forward and practically advises Democrats who are afflicted with the "sound" money craze to scratch the name of Hardin from their tickets and vote for the rest of the Democratic candidates. This advice is not given in direct and positive way but is in strict accord with the treachery which enables the most extreme advocate of free coinage to say at this hour that the Democratic leaders are fools and knaves and that the Republican gold monometallists are statesmen and pa-riots.

By pretending to make a plea for the rest of the ticket the Courier-Journal points out how Hardin's name may be scratched. "It would be not only illogical to scratch other nominees simply because it is proposed to scratch Hardin," says the Courier-Journal, "but it would be the greatest injustice to them to make them suffer for Hardin's shortcomings."

What are the "shortcomings" of the man whom the Democrats of Kentucky have made their candidate for governor? They are very simple. He has refused to betray the people. He has refused to betray his party. He has refused to adopt Republican principles. He has refused to sell out to the money power. He continues to advocate the very Democratic principles that the Courier-Journal was advocating so hotly a few years ago.

These are his "shortcomings," and they ought to and will commend him to the support of every honest Democrat in Kentucky. We say every honest Democrat. The so-called "sound" money men are not Democrats. They have adopted Republican principles and Republican policies, and they are no more Democratic than John Sherman is.

The Courier-Journal goes on to say that for the "sound" money men to scratch the rest of the nominees with Hardin would be an "injustice" indefensible in itself and destructive of "the very ground on which the scratchers propose to justify their repudiation of Mr. Hardin."

This is as much as to say to the "sound" money voters who persist in thinking that they are Democrats, "Boys, if you want to get in your work, scratch Hardin, the Democrat, and vote for such Republicans as you may find on the ticket." Treachery is said to be frequently accompanied by a low order of shrewdness and cunning, but there is nothing shrewd or cunning in the Courier-Journal's scheme. It is simply a plan to repudiate the head of the ticket because he has the courage of his Democratic convictions. That is all there is of it.

It is a pity that the so-called "sound" money men who imagine that they are Democrats do not have the courage of their convictions. In this respect General Hardin has set them an example that they would do well to follow. He has not lowered the flag of Democracy at the bidding of the traitors who thought that they had acquired control of the organization. The doctrine that won him his nomination he has continued to preach in spite of the efforts of the traitors to muzzle him.

Now, if the "sound" money men had the courage of their convictions they would not place themselves in a position to win the hearty contempt of all honest Democrats. They would not stab themselves in the attitude of stabbing the Democratic party in the back. Instead, they would boldly declare for the only "sound" money man who is to-day a candidate for governor of Kentucky. They would support Bradley, the Republican, who, as a "sound" money man, is in favor of the single gold standard and a consistent representative of the policy of the Republican party.

If there is any Democrat in Kentucky who is really in favor of the single gold standard, he ought to be honest and conscientious enough to vote for the candidate and the party that represents his financial views. This would be a more manly performance than to follow the suggestions made by the Courier-Journal.

It seems queer that the Courier-Journal and the "sound" money men of Kentucky do not perceive that there is a boomerang attached to their scratching business. It may accidentally happen that the "sound" money men, by bribing and bulldozing delegates and packing a convention with cuckoos and patronage heelers, will secure the nomination of a "sound" money man and goldbug as a candidate for some responsible office. When this happens how can the "sound" money men, with any show of honesty, decency or consistency, ask the free coinage Democrats to support their candidate? With the programme of scratching in full blast in Kentucky, how can the goldbugs hope to prevent the free coinage men from scratching a goldbug candidate?

Meanwhile, on with the dance!—
Atlanta Constitution.

Houck on Top.

The bondholders of the St. Louis, Cape Girardeau & Ft. Smith Railroad held a meeting last week in New York and decided to lend assistance to the present management of the road by paying to the Missouri Pacific, all claims. They gave Mr. Houck orders to extend the road West, and lay the track with fifty-six pound steel rails from Cape Girardeau, west forty miles.

This is something the people, who know the amount of good Mr. Houck has done for this section of the State, have been longing for since the Iron Mountain people have been trying to obtain control of this road.

There is no man that has done more for the advancement of this section of Southeast Missouri, than Hon. Louis Houck, President of the road, commonly known as "Houck's" road.

Of course we do not claim nor bear out the idea, that he has done all this at a sacrifice to himself, not by any means, but we do claim that the management of the road have guarded more the interests of the people along the line than any road owned and controlled by Eastern monopolies, whose only idea is to obtain as much from the people as is possible, without giving anything but mere promises in return.

We all know the management has been tied up in a lawsuit for several years and could not give that attention to the improvement of the road that they would have done if let alone.

Mr. Houck may feel assured that the people of this section, through which his road runs, have and do yet wish him the greatest success and in return expect good service.—Fuzico Index.

There is one medicine which every family should be provided with. We refer to Chamberlain's Pain Balm.
When it is kept at hand the severe pain of a burn or cold may be promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third the time otherwise required.
Cuts and bruises should receive immediate attention, before the pain becomes swollen, and when Chamberlain's Pain Balm is applied it will heal them without matter being formed, and without leaving a scar. A sore throat may be cured in one night. A piece of flannel dampened with this balm and bound on over the seat of pain, will cure lame back or pain in the side or chest in twenty-four hours. It is the most valuable, however, for rheumatism. Persons afflicted with this disease will be delighted with the prompt relief from pain which it affords, and it can be depended upon to effect a complete cure. For sale by all dealers.

Neuralgia

ATTACKS THE EYES

Unbearable.

PERMANENTLY CURED
BY USING
Ayer's Pills

"My husband was subject to severe attacks of neuralgia which caused him great pain and suffering. The pains were principally about his eyes, and he often had to remain in a darkened room, not being able to stand the light. Ayer's Pills being recommended, he tried them, using one before each meal. They very soon afforded relief, followed by permanent cure. I am a strong believer in the efficacy of Ayer's Pills and would not be without them for ten times their cost."—Mrs. M. E. DERRICK, Liberty, Tex.

"I have used Ayer's Pills many times for thirty years, and regard them as the very best."—Wm. M. HANCOCK, Lulu City, Pa.
